

PRESS RELEASE

NDC Launches Its Disability Forum

NDC is celebrating the official launch of its Disability Forum on 19th February 2008 at The Honeywell Centre on Ashton Road.

The Forum will be held between 12.30 and 3.00 pm and is specifically for disabled people, their carers and support agencies so that they can have their say and influence the future of the area.

The Forum constitution will be agreed and a management committee elected on the day.

The event will also be an opportunity for disabled people to network and meet other people and have their say on key things which affect their lives.

The disability forum will be an important organisation in the NDC area because it will at last give disabled people a voice and a formal channel to air their concerns and worries as well as celebrate their successes and achievements

Andy Andrejczak Events Coordinator for the NDC said'

"This is the last of the key forums to be set up in the area and is based on the successful youth and older people's forum model. We hope it will be a great success and will raise awareness of disability issues in the area as well as give disabled people a chance to have their say and change things for the better"
